NOTICE OF FILING COMPARATIVE STATE COMPENDIUM

April 17, 2009

Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP hereby provides notice that the database for the Comparative Compendium of State Rules (Comparative Database) will be filed today, EFIS system permitting. The Comparative Database is a large Excel spreadsheet in which various ethics rules have been collected and segregated for rapid comparison. It will be filed in native electronic format so that it can be accessed and used by parties participating or interested in the proceedings related to the development of Public Service Commission ethics rules. The Comparative Database is currently almost 20MB, however, and thus will be filed in two or more units. (If Hinshaw cannot file the database in the EFIS system today, it will forward the database to the PSC for filing or posting very early next week.)

In addition, Hinshaw is preparing a Summary of the Comparative Database that will provide summary information on various state's rules drawn from the Comparative Database, as well as insights gained during preparation of the Comparative Database. Hinshaw anticipates filing this Summary by close of business on April 21, 2009.

Respectfully submitted,

HINSHAW & CULBERTSON, LLP
