Re: Case No. TC-2004-0358, Enron Broadband Services, Inc.
("EBS") (Respondent)

Subject: Request to Revoke Certificate and Tariff

Dear Mr. Berlin:

Pursuant to our conversations on March 3 and 5, 2004, we are sending you this letter on behalf of our client, Enron Broadband Services, Inc. and its parent company, Enron, Inc. ("Enron"), to set forth the information discussed in those conversations with the expectation that it will suffice to revoke the Certificate of Service Authority and Tariff of EBS and dismiss the pending complaint.

The background of this letter is as follows. On April 19, 2001, the Commission granted EBS a certificate of service authority to provide intrastate interexchange and nonswitched local exchange telecommunication services in Missouri. Its tariff (No. 200200196) became effective on October 28, 2001. In December 2001, EBS, along with its parent company Enron, filed a petition for Chapter 11 reorganization in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York.

On February 9, 2004, the Commission issued a Notice of Complaint that the Staff of the Missouri Public Service Commission filed against EBS on February 5, 2004 for its failure to file its 2002 Annual Report and its assessments for Fiscal Years 2003 and 2004.

In response to the complaint, Enron would like to advise the Commission that EBS is no longer in business, and any current activities related to EBS involve the winding up of that business. Moreover, Enron has reviewed its records and determined that in the state of Missouri, EBS did not engage in any activities authorized under its certificate of authority, and accordingly, there is no revenue to report for any time period.

Enron would also advise the Commission that while EBS was certified as a "telecommunications company," EBS never engaged in activity that would have put it within the definition of a "telecommunication company" as that term is defined under the Missouri statute. EBS did acquire rights, through IRUs, to resell capacity on telecommunication lines owned by other companies. However, EBS did not have any resales of the capacity in Missouri even under these IRU agreements.

It is our understanding based on our discussions with you that revocation of the EBS certificate is appropriate in this instance, given that EBS did not engage in the authorized activities within one year from the date of certification. It is our further understanding that, based on this information, you will seek the revocation of the Certificate and Tariff of EBS, and consequently, the Complaint against EBS will be dismissed.

If you do not share the same understanding or if you need anything further, please contact us at (202) 682-7070. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Bruce H. Turnbull
