- A. Sheet Numbering - Sheet numbers appear in the upper right corner of the page. Sheets are numbered sequentially. However, new sheets are occasionally added to the tariff. When a new sheet is added between sheets already in effect, a decimal is added. For example, a new sheet added between sheets 14 and 15 would be 14.1.
- B. Sheet Revision Numbers - Revision numbers also appear in the upper right corner of each page. These numbers are used to determine the most current sheet version on file with the Commission. For example, the 4th revised Sheet 14 cancels the 3rd revised Sheet 14. Because of various suspension periods, deferrals, etc. the Commission follows in their tariff approval process, the most current sheet number on file with the Commission is not always the tariff page in effect.
- C. Paragraph Numbering Sequence - There are nine levels of paragraph coding. Each level of coding is subservient to its next higher level:

Carrier provides resold interexchange telecommunications services, including calling card services. Calls are rated based on the duration of the call. Carrier does not charge for service on a mileage basis. Subject to market demand and overall economic conditions, Carrier may subsequently offer additional services.

3.2 Calculation of Usage Rates

3.2.1 Billing for calls placed over Carrier's network is based in part on the duration of the call. Unless otherwise stated herein, calls are billed in one minute initial and one minute additional increments. Timing begins when the called station is answered, as determined by standard industry methods generally in use for ascertaining answer, including hardware answer supervision in which the local telephone company sends a signal to the switch. A call is terminated when either party (called or calling) hangs up.

3.2.2 Rates are not distance sensitive. As such, unless otherwise indicated, mileage bands are not applicable to the services offered.

3.2.3 Unless otherwise indicated, rates do not vary depending upon day or the time of day (Day, Evening, and Night/Weekend).

4.1.2 Prepaid Calling Card Service

Prepaid Calling Card service is a prepaid long distance calling card service under which Users purchase cards in predetermined amounts for long distance usage. Two types of Prepaid Calling Cards are offered: refreshable or disposable. Users may increase the balance on Carrier's refreshable cards by contacting Carrier. The refreshable Prepaid Calling Card expires six (6) months from date of first use or, if later, from date last refreshed. Disposable, non-refreshable Prepaid Calling Cards expire six (6) months from date of first use. Carrier's Prepaid Calling Card services are accessed through a toll-free number. An authorization code and destination number are then entered and the call is completed. As Users access the service, their usage is automatically deducted from the remaining card balance. When one minute remains, a warning announcement is heard by the User. When all remaining time has been depleted, the call will be terminated. Prepaid Calling Card calls are billed in one minute initial and one minute additional increments.
