SUMMARY OF EXPERIENCE

Carolyn Berry is an economist with the Energy Practice. She specializes in market design and analysis, incentives and competition, policy formation, and regulatory issues in the energy industry, including collaborating and advising on electric and gas market initiatives and strategy. She has a proven track record as an expert witness in litigated proceedings and in achieving settlement with adverse parties. Dr. Berry has extensive experience leading and collaborating with key players in the California electricity and natural gas markets on issues related to the 2000-2001 energy crisis, the market structure and incentives that contributed to scarcity of supply, and options to redesign the markets.

Dr. Berry has prepared testimony, directed and performed technical analyses, and provided policy recommendations on a wide array of issues: electricity market design, mergers and acquisitions, rate determination, gaming and manipulation in electricity and natural gas markets, financial ring-fencing, utility cost recovery, value of distributed energy resources, energy efficiency and demand response, rate forecasting, cost-allocation mechanisms, contract evaluation, and damages calculations. Additionally, she has worked with domestic and international clients on energy market issues such as decoupling, uplift costs, avoided costs, virtual bidding, gaming strategies in centralized auctions, transmission pricing, optimal allocation of transmission rights, and retail electricity markets. She also has extensive experience with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, having worked on a wide variety of topics, including deregulation of wholesale electricity markets, market monitoring, mergers, cost recovery, and rate determination.
