Brief Description

LPS subclass timing

Description

Based on current prospective large load customers’ expected in-service date for permanent service, what is the soonest date Ameren Missouri anticipates a customer with demand greater than or equal to 100 MW would receive service under the new LPS subclass? Does Ameren Missouri have a current pipeline of prospective customers with a demand between 25 MW – 99 MW? If so, how many, and what are the anticipated in-service dates for permanent service of those customers?
