Custom Calling Service

A. General

1. Custom Calling Service consists of one or more of the following features which provide special kinds of customer-controlled communications features on individual service lines. Custom Calling Service is available only through central offices which, at the Company's option, are appropriately equipped. Operating specifics may vary by central office equipment type but can be described generally as:

- a. Call Waiting--Provides a signal to a customer using the telephone that another call is being attempted to his number. The customer can "hold" the original call to answer the incoming call. Cancel Call Waiting allows a subscriber to cancel his/her Call Waiting feature for the duration of a call. Upon release of that call, the Call Waiting feature is again implemented.

- +b. Call Forwarding--Permits all calls directed to a customer number to be routed on to another dialable number, predetermined and activated by the customer. (See NOTE)

The Remote Access to Call Forwarding feature allows a user at a remote location to activate/deactivate the Call Forwarding feature. The user gains remote access to the Call Forwarding feature from a touch-tone telephone at a remote location. The Remote Access Call Forwarding feature uses an announcement system to provide interactive voice message prompting, which allows customers to verify the forwarded-to directory number. This verification process eliminates the need for successful completion of a courtesy call.

- +c. Call Forwarding Busy—The Call Forwarding Busy Line feature allows all calls to a busy Directory Number to be forwarded to another Directory Number. The Call Forwarding Busy Line feature is active on the base Directory Number once the feature is assigned. When a call is made to a busy Directory Number with this feature, the call is routed to the specific remote station. This applies to calls originating within as well as outside the terminal group. When a call is made to an idle base station with this feature, the call is handled as a normal terminating call.

NOTE: The grade of transmission on calls forwarded and three-way calling may vary upon the distance and routing required to complete such calls; therefore, the normal grade of end-to-end transmission can not be guaranteed on such calls.

- Families with teenagers – This feature allows family members to determine for whom a call is intended. This provides household members with the convenience of avoiding calls not designated for them. The teenagers could also have their own listing in the printed directory.
- Roommates or doctors/lawyers who want separate numbers – Multiple Directory Numbers allow separate numbers and separate directory listings for each person without the expense of an additional line.
- Emergency alerting – By providing an additional number to be used only in urgent situations or only by a select few, a customer can determine the purpose of the call or from whom the call originated.
